

NECK PAIN CAN HURT YOUR PEOPLE...

...AND YOUR BUSINESS

With the right equipment, you could increase productivity by up to 43%

Whatever your business, your workforce is one of your biggest assets. Making sure your employees can carry out their job safely and comfortably means they'll be less prone to work related injury. And when they're feeling well, they'll work well, leading to increased productivity and better cost savings for you.

Plantronics headsets help your people get their job done without putting strain on the muscles in their neck. In fact, they reduce tension in the neck and back by up to 31% (University of Surrey). This can have a significant impact on productivity, with independent research showing an increase of as much as 43% when using a headset instead of a traditional phone*. Making it a better solution for everyone.
